36 Cities. A Million People. One Voice.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: January 26, 2015

Algona Mayor Dave Hill Elected to Executive Committee of Sound Cities Association

Algona Mayor Dave Hill has been elected Member-at-Large of the Executive Committee of the Sound City Association (SCA), which represents 36 cities in King County, Washington, and provides a regional voice for nearly one million people. Mayor Hill is one of four SCA Board Officers and this is his second term as a member of the Executive Committee.

“Mayor Hill’s experience and leadership contributed tremendously to SCA’s 2014 success in addressing our region’s top issues including fiscal responsibility, transportation, community development and environmental sustainability,” said SCA Executive Director Deanna Dawson.

“SCA creates partnerships to build long-term community and economic prosperity for our region and state,” said Mayor Hill. “I look forward to building on our record of success of being a strong regional voice for cities such as Algona.”

Mayor Hill said SCA provides a voice for King County cities under 150,000 people in population through leadership in areas such as economic and community development, transportation, land use, health, government operations, the environment, education, public safety, social welfare and other public policy issues.

Mayor Hill has been a resident and active resident of Algona for over 20 years. He decided to run for City Council in 2003. While on Council, he served as Mayor Pro Tem for two years. In October of 2006, Mayor Joe Scholz moved out of town and the City Council appointed him the position of Mayor for remainder of the term. In November 2007 he was successfully elected Mayor, served that term and was again elected in 2011.

Mayor Hill represents Algona as an active member with several organizations including the South County Area Transportation Board (ScatBd) and the Valley Cities Association, an organization of Valley City Mayors and Chambers of Commerce.

SCA, which was formerly known as the Suburban Cities Association, was established more than 40 years ago to help King County cities act locally and partner regionally to create vital and thriving communities through advocacy, education, leadership, mutual support and networking.
